

Well Dressed comes from fashion. Runways all over the world have featured the hounds-tooth design in varying size, shape, and color. It has its roots in Scotland in the 1800's, used as an outer garment, and is currently having a resurgence in some of the top fashion houses in Europe. This bold design can certainly “dress up” an interior and make a sophisticated statement for commercial applications. Well Dressed is fun, familiar, and can add an upscale look to any area.
